Addison Nelson Is Given Commission In Naval Reserve

Local Man Passes 4 Months Of Vigorous Training for Commission

Addison R. Nelson of Truckee was one of 35 young men in the Twelfth Naval District to receive his commission in the United States Naval Reserve recently following successful completion of the midshipman V-7 course at Northwestern University in Chicago.

Ensign Nelson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Nelson of Truckee and formerly taught school in Grass Valley. Nelson is a graduate of local schools, Sacramento Junior College and San Francisco State College, and he holds an A. B. degree from the latter institution. He also attended University of San Francisco for post graduate work. Nelson visited here this week en route to his station in San Francisco.

All of the new naval officers spent four months at Northwestern, the first covering an indoctrination course and the following three devoted to gunnery, navigation, seamanship and related subjects.

These men will now be placed on active duty with the U. S. Navy as deck officers. There are two other schools for reserve midshipmen, one at Columbia University and another aboard the USS Prairie State, New York City, where engineering officers are trained.

Knights of Pythias Roll Call Is Well Attended

Summit Lodge No. 54, Knights of Pythias, observed its 63rd anniversary Saturday night at a roll call ceremony in the grammar school auditorium. Several grand lodge officers were on hand from both Nevada and California.

Several fine musical numbers highlighted the program. Among these were two numbers by the Wyethia Choral under the direction of Mrs Merle Latten, a vocal solo by Norrie Waddington and a violin solo by Yvonne Garrison, all accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Wolert and Mrs. Lotta Bryant. Added to the program was a violin solo by Darryl Tonini of Carson City, ably accompanied by Francis Schultz, also of the Nevada capital city.

Wyoming Tourists Discover Army Means Business After Close Call

* * * * *

The importance of heeding orders to halt by army sentries was impressed upon three Douglas, Wyo., residents Monday night when they speeded past a sentry at Donner Bridge after being ordered to halt. Twenty shots from a "tommy" gun fired into the path of the machine as it continued down the grade also failed to stop the car and it was only after Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley and an army officer followed car to Reno that the halt order was finally obeyed.

The driver of the car, Douglas Wilson Cook, 25, bookkeeper for the Mountain States Power Co., had stopped his machine above the bridge to take pictures, now prohibited under army orders. As he neared the bridge the two sentries stepped out to take the films for exposure, as they were instructed. Cook said he thought the soldiers were hitching a ride and did not stop.

After passing them, Cook said, he realized that shots were being fired into the path of the machine but in his excitement, sped on instead of stopping. Fortunately the sentries did not fire directly into the machine in which Mrs. Cook and her sister were passengers with the driver. The three had been on a vacation trip and were returning home.

Drivers should be warned to heed orders from sentries in this district as less experienced men may have caused a tragedy.

We could possibly vent a lot of unnecessary wrath by editorializing to some extent upon the unfortunate circumstances which brought about a change in plans for the proposed Lake Tahoe naval base. We feel that it is sufficient to say that we sincerely hope that the best interests of our armed forces were served in the cancellation of the plan to erect the Tahoe base and that our ranking governmental officials were not swayed by the protests from a handful of property owners which might or might not have been affected by the erection of the base. We would not like to believe that these objections were in any way responsible for the ultimate decision but that "engineering difficulties" were the cause. We believe that politics, personal opinions and to a large extent even personal rights should be discarded during this strenuous period in which we hope all efforts are being exerted to win the war. We are all quite naturally disappointed in losing the opportunity of having a huge defense project right in our area and particularly are we disappointed because it was once announced as approved and highly recommended and then found to be wanting. We hope that the site eventually chosen lends more to winning the war than would have the Tahoe Base. We hold only contempt for those who personally opposed the base for selfish reasons. After all we are in a vital war, not for a few but for the entire world.

Our recent contacts with the state chamber of commerce and other booster organizations and travel bureaus indicate that that Truckee-Tahoe-Donner area this season may well anticipate a good volume of business. Naturally, tire rationing and stress of work may limit travel to some extent, but long trips will probably be out with vacationists confining themselves to shorter trips and longer stays in local recreational areas. We hope this will be the case and can see no reason to be pessimistic.

One sure way to save tires, money and time is to trade with local merchants.

11 From Truckee Go to Army Training in Week

Eleven Truckee men were in the latest contingent of selectees to leave Nevada county for training under the Selective Service Act. They were George Henry Clark, John Walta, Roma D. Kecter, Theodore E. Peterson, George A. Rigby, Ernest J. Elliot, Thomas Aranda and Ezra P. Sines.

With 35 other men from the county, they left last week from Nevada City where a large crowd gathered at the court house for the farewell. Members of the Nevada City P. T. A., Grass Valley Eagles and Firemen gave each man a five-year diary suitably inscribed.

SHIP YARD SCHOOL MAN TO BE HERE ON FRIDAY AT M. L. U. H.

John G. Callnon, field representative of the Sacramento NYA Resident Center, will visit the Meadow Lake Union High School here on Friday afternoon, May 22, to interview applicants for training in marine welding and shipfitting. High school graduates and other interested youth between the ages of 17 years 9 months and 19 years 2 months, or those up to 25 with 3A classification or higher, who want employment in the shipyards, are urged to contact the high school for appointments. Interested youth can qualify for this training, according to Callnon, if "they are able bodied and capable of performing active work, and can learn required skills under supervision."

Practical work experience is offered in both the welding and shipfitting courses under the qualified direction of the Vocational Education Department of California. Trainees work under actual conditions as found in shipyards. The training period is three months at the Sacramento Resident Center in North Sacramento, with a guarantee of employment in the shipyards upon satisfactory completion of the course.

Kings Beach Lady Seriously Hurt In Odd Auto Mishap

Woman Run Over by Car In Which She Is Passenger

by MADELINE GALLERANI
(Sierra Sun Staff Correspondent)

KINGS BEACH, May 21— Mrs. Fred Powers, widely-known resident of Kings Beach, is in an Auburn hospital in a serious condition as the result of a freak automobile accident near the Riolo Club here Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers had been visiting for the evening at the John Gallerani home and after leaving, started to turn into the driveway at Riolo's. The right hand door of the car suddenly flew open and Mrs. Powers was thrown out. The driver immediately stopped and rear wheel stood on the injured woman's right hand which was severely bruised and mangled. An amputation may be necessary, it was feared, as all ligaments and muscles were torn away.

Mrs. Powers also suffered severe bruises and lacerations on other parts of her body.

She was rushed to Truckee by Mrs. Annie Gallerani and after being treated by Dr. Bernard, was taken to Auburn by ambulance.

Congressman Declares Engineering Obstacles, Other Factors As Cause

Englebright's Efforts For Reconsideration Are Seen As Hopless As "Engineering Difficulties" Are Encountered in Project

That the Tahoe Naval Base is definitely out of the picture is indicated in the following telegram from Harry L. Englebright, local member of congress, whose previous announcement had given virtual assurance of the site.

His request for reconsideration, it has been reported, is "a waste of time." Whether or not this will eventually prove true or false is a matter of conjecture.

It was authoritatively reported from unimpeachable sources not more than two weeks ago that the base was sure to be built at Lake Tahoe, the change of plans coming as a difficult blow to the region.

The telegram is self-explanatory and follows:

Walter M. Barrett May 15, 1942
Truckee, Calif.

Shortly after the secretary of the navy on April 14, 1942, announced the selection of Lake Tahoe as a naval training station, certain property owners who make the lake their home for a few weeks or months in the summer registered opposition to the lake being used as a naval training station, alleging the station would spoil the privacy of their summer homes. Exaggerated representations as to weather conditions were made and suggestions were made that station be established at Pyramid Lake, Nevada, where, in their words, there was plenty of desert land.

The Lake Tahoe station was selected after due investigation by government officials before the announcement of the selection of the site was made by the secretary of the navy.

After the objections mentioned were made, the Pyramid Lake site in Nevada was examined and I am advised a decision was rendered that this site was not suitable as a naval training station. With reference to the objection of certain property owners at Lake Tahoe, I have contended there is no locality or site, no matter how select, too good for the training of the men of our army or navy and requested, as had been originally announced by the secretary of the navy, that the construction of the project at Lake Tahoe be proceeded with immediately.

This morning I was advised by the Navy Department that, due to engineering difficulties in construction problems, Lake Tahoe would not be used as a naval training station.

Also I was advised that the protest of certain property owners was not a factor in this decision. Having intimate knowledge of the lake region and inasmuch as the site had been duly investigated and selected. I was quite astonished that engineering problems have developed that preclude the construction of the project.

Still believing it to be the best public interest and to the advancement of our war effort, I have requested that a reconsideration be given to the establishment of a naval training station at Lake Tahoe.

Air Patrol Unit Is Formed In Truckee For Defense Work

H. E. Hibbard Is Named As Flight Commander of Local Patrol

Organization of a local unit of the Civil Air Patrol, a defense program which is much sought after all over the country, was perfected here Tuesday night at a meeting of 15 air-minded citizens who are starting immediately upon the training period.

H. E. Hibbard, chief pilot at the Placer Flying Service school here, was named flight commander while Earl Woodard was selected as assistant and R. D. McClure was chosen as chief clerk.

Gene Barton, assisted by Herman Owens, will have charge of the initial drilling. Meetings will be held each Monday, Tuesday and Thursday until the required 20 hours of drill have been completed and the group will then meet weekly until they have finished the 80 hours of ground work.

Work here will be confined principally to patrolling forests, it was indicated.

C. B. WHITE, A. PACE AND GAIENNIE ARE NAMED TRUSTEES

At the school board elections held here last Friday, C. B. White and A. Pace were write-in winners on the Meadow Lake Union High School board and F. W. Gaiennie was named to the vacancy on the grammar school board.

White received 45 votes, Gaiennie 42, and Pace 19. There were a numbr of other names written in on the ballots, but none received more than four votes.

Gaiennie will replace N. F. Dolley on the elementary school board, while White and Pace will succeed Mrs Lotta Bryant of Truckee and Adolph Schmidt of Floriston. None of the former board members were candidates for re-election.

The vote was considered unusually good inview of the fact that all were write-in candidates.

The boards will meet soon to canvas the ballot.

At a meeting of the board of the Meadow Lake Union High School District, all incumbent teachers were re-employed for the coming year.

G. E. Hofmann was retained as principal and contracts of Bernard Corrigan, Miss Anna Marie Munro and Miss Marion Lothrop were renewed.

Contracts of P. R. Nelson, principal, and Thomas Griffen were renewed by the grammar school board with the application of Mrs. Jennie Watkins held pending the outcome of the budget to be presented in the near future.

Ladies Dancing Calss Is Possibility For Truckee

Plans are being made here for the organization of a dancing class for women and everyone interested is asked to communicate with Mrs. Olla Tonini by telephoning 110. The instructor, if the class can be arranged will be Miss Eve Alwyn, daughter of Madame Alwyn, who conducted a successful class in exercise and diet here last fall.

V

FISHING GOOD

With the advent of good weather in the region, fishing is reported to be vastly improved over the first few days.

Dave Cabona, ace Truckee angler, brought in a 9½ pound Loch Leven Sunday to top the list of weights for the season from the river. He hooked the big fellow on the Truckee river and had a lot of fun landing him, breaking a leader just as his catch reached the bank. A little hand and head work soon brought the fish under control.

Lake Tahoe is also producing excellent results, with many nice limits being reported by local and visiting anglers. Boca reservoir, the Little Truckee and other nearby streams and lakes are yielding good catches.

Added to Staff—

Milton Shontz of Woodland and Robert Shea of Jackson have been added to the staff of Loynd's Drugs They will be employed at the Lake Tahoe store.

Anglican Church Gets New Head

In bomb-blasted Canterbury cathedral, with its shattered windows and sand-bag-protected tombs, Dr. William Temple is pictured as he sat in St. Augustine's chair for the first time. This scene took place as Dr. Temple formally became archbishop of Canterbury, succeeding Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang as head of the Anglican church. He became the only man whose father preceded him to the high office.

MEMORIAL DAY

Not in a generation, not since 1918, has America observed a Memorial Day like that of this year. In happier times of peace, the sod thickens over the graves of the men who have died for America, as the years pass and time softens the pain of families that mourn them. In the cemetaries now the green blanket of grass lies torn by the brown earthen mounds of new graves—graves dug last week, and the week before then and the week before then.

The blood and the tears of this war will seem very near and real to all who visit cemetaries on this Memorial Day, even to those who have not suffered personal loss. For all know that the sacrifice of death and grief must grow.

Nearer and more tangible than ever before, too, will seem the blood and tears of earlier years. The soldier who died on Bataan has become an eternal comrade of the soldier who died at San Juan Hill, at Gettysburg, at Trenton, at St. Mihiel. Times have changed, and weapons and enemies have changed, but the soldier dead who gave their lives under Washington and Lincoln and Pershing and MacArthur fought for one changeless cause: the freedom of this nation under the Constitution and flag.

Other comrades, dying in the same cause, may join them in future wars as the years roll, although all men of good will hope that this war shall be the last world conflagration of hate and conquest. The fresh graves and the graves of men who died in battles of long ago give assurance that America shall never want for defenders, and all of this generation may know that the sacrifices made for the liberty of posterity shall not have been made in vain.

SILVER BULLETS

"Save and serve for victory!"—that is the battle cry all over the country today.

We all have to do our part in winning this war. Hoarding money keeps weapons from our fighting men. Our efforts to arm them must know no waste, no squandering of assets. In this struggle the idle dollar is like a soldier asleep at his post.

A War Bond is an investment for the future. Ten per cent of a yearly income is a small loan to the maintenance of our glorious traditions and to our valiant effort to see that these and our American way of liife shall continue. Our contribution toward such a cause transcends obligation and sacrifice. It is not only our duty to respond to our nation's cry in time of need; it is also our privilege—a privilege to share in the attainment of victory to which we are pledged.

Winning this war is going to take the most gargantuan effort America has ever made—in men, in materials and in money. Every dime is a silver bullet, every dollar the wings of our planes, to be turned against the foe.

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

by DOUG BARKETT

I don't believe anything I could say would more adequately express the feelings of all of us over the tragic and untimely death of Chris "Honeybunch" Boyairedes last week than a poem written by our Tahoe editor, Mrs. Eleanor Swanson, known to the reader as "Swanee' which I take pleasure in reproducing:

In Memoriam To Honeybunch

They'll need no marble monument
To mark your resting place,
No photographs or movie reels
To trace your smiling face.
They'll need no written pages to Review your kindly deeds
For thirty years of memories,
Replete with cheer and charities,
Is all Lake Tahoe needs.
The 'kids' will miss your many treats
Too frequent to recall.
The fairer sex, your civic aid,
You "Honeybunch"-ed them all.
And those who needed ready cash,
Or, maybe, just a friend,
Will bless your willing eagerness
To ease their burden of distress,
You'd sympathize....or lend.
We wish you knew we think of you
As 'regular' and 'swell'....
Could see each tear sehd o'er your bier
As old pals said ...."Farewell!"
You left a priceless heritage,
With boundless dividend,
For, though your face no more we'll see,
Within a host of hearts you'll be
An unforgotten friend.

Upon reading the Middletown, Lake County, Times-Star this week, I was a little surprised and no little shocked to find a Nevada county official was a candidate for office in that county in the coming primary election. Sylvia R. Mosher, Mr. Carlson's rural school supervisor, is a candidate for county superintendent of LAKE county. In her announcement Mrs. Mosher says: "I have completed my 15th year of service as supervisor of schools; the first 12 in Lake County and the last three in Nevada county. I have officiated as deputy superintendent also in both counties....Although my vocation has made it necesssary for me to be in Nevada county ten months of the year for the last three years, my home and property interests have remained the same. I have been a registered voter in NO other county than Lake." All I'd like to know is: "Why, Mr. Carlson?" Don't we have sufficient talent among the the teachers in three high schools and numerous elementary schools in Nevada county to fill a Nevada county job? Perhaps it is because Mrs. Mosher is so disinterested in Nevada county that we in the eastern end have suffered so much under the incumbent school administration.

THE MAN AT THE KEYHOLE

by OPERATIVE WB

The man who has tabulated more election returns than any other man in California—able, genial, Charles J. Hagerty, veteran deputy in the office of Secretary of State—will this year tabulate his own, and nearly everybody who dabbles in politics hopes he chalks up the winning total on his own side of the ledger. After 30 years of service in the office, Charlie is a candidate for Secretary of State, with the blessings of his present boss, Paul Peek, and almost all officialdom. The boys think he's earned it!

No matter what happens on election day, never can it be said that Carl S. Kegley, the "singing candidate" for Attorney General, suffered from undue modesty. Mr. Kegley starts all his campaign meetings by blandly singing a home-made ditty, entitled: "The People Demand President Roosevelt and Me!"

Before another week is gone, our spy advises, Speaker of the Assembly Gordon Garland will definitely pull out of the race for Governor and announce for the place on the State Board of Equalization left vacant by the death of Fred E. Stewart.

LAKE TAHOE NEWS

(BY SWANEE) Telephone Tahoe City 66J

Tahoe Kwikies

At last some fashion expert has noted the exquisite blue of Lake Tahoe, for in a recent issue of the San Francisco Chronicle, a lovely new creation was depicted in Tahoe Blue.

From Hollywood the first of the month came a news item of interest to the many local friends of Marty Arrouge, Reno ski ace, whose engagement to the glamourous Norma Shearer was recently whispered. Miss Shearer "admitted" seh was acquainted with Marty, but refused to confirm or deny tre report. She is planning on retiring from the screen and, incidentally, Marty is vacationing in Southern California.

Mrs. Ruth Ables of Honolulu, now a resident of Tahoe City, has been added to the staff of the Tahoe telephone office. She replaces Mrs. Barbara Arment, who will shortly leave Tahoe.

Tahoe residents were jubilant this week because Sunday mail service was resumed for the summer season on Sunday, May 17. The post office in town remains open on the Sabbath from 9:30 'til 10:30 a.m., outgoing mail leaving at 4:30 P. M. each day, including Sunday, until such time as the train starts running daily.

"Pinky" Burleigh, well known resident of Tahoe City, left Friday to offer his services to Uncle Sam's armed forces. He was employed by Norman Mayfield.

Riley T. Kelly of Reno has been temporarily substituting for Arnold Dupy, the stage driver so seriously injured last week. He will remain until a permanent operator has been sent in.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bell have taken the Morrow house in Lake Forest for the season.

Larry Burns of the bay region was a recent visitor at the Ben Stanley home in Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Enfield and baby son spent a few days in San Francisco last week. They are visiting at the Hinkle home in Bittencourt Tract.

A. Gallerani and Sons installed a new paving job at the pumps of Carl Bechdolt, Jr.'s, Standard Oil station in Tahoe, greatly enhancing the appearance of the Lake Chalets.

Little Christine Bechdolt was hostess at a gala fourth birthday party on Wednesday last at which her little visitors played games and ate gobs of birthday cake. Guests attending were Carol Shifton, Laddy and Gertrude Anne Martinez, Albert Drais, Sharon Bechdolt and Gary Todd.

Carlo and Pete Vanni were visitors at Tahoe over the weekend, opening their home in the Bittencourt Tract in preparation to moving back for the summer, if plans materialize. Mrs. Vanni has been ill a good deal of the winter with rheumatism and much prefers Tahoe weather to that of South San Francisco.

Mrs. Beulah Carnell was called away hurriedly last week to the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Etta Kreuger of Beverly Hills. No word of her mother's condition is available at this writing.

Lake level on Monday was 6228.40 feet with 685 C.S.F. of water leaving the gates.

Mrs. Charles Warner donated some excellent books to the Tahoe library last week.

Mrs. Evelyn Bliss, chairman of Tahoe's Red Cross, has more materials now on hand for those ladies wishing to sew for the war effort. Bed jackets are the latest garments on hand.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Specht and son Raymond of San Francisco enjoyed the week-end at their Pine Crest summer home—Ray-Mar.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hicks of Sacramento opened their Lake Forest Unit 3 home and Dr. and Mrs. George Hensel of Reno are expected at their Dollar Hill home.

Miss Donaldine Grass of Sacramento Junior College and a party of friends week-ended at her summer cottage atop Dollar Hill.

Mrs. H. H. Searles of San Francisco was due in on Monday to open the family home near Carnelian Bay, with Dr. Searles to follow along for the week-end.

Prof. Stacy Smith of the Sacramento Junior College also opened his home near Dollar Hill last week.

Jack Starratt has returned to Lake Tahoe for the summer, having worked all winter in defense work in Las Vegas.

TAHOE WILL HAVE OWN RATIONING AGENTS FOR SUGAR AND TIRES, REPORT

TAHOE CITY, May 21—Thanks to the persistent efforts of Mrs. Bliss Hinkle, the Placer sugar rationing board has finally consented to permit Tahoe a local rationing agent, making it unnecessary to go all the way to Auburn for information. Next week's Sierra Sun will carry the name of the approved candidate for the post. All inquiries until that time should be submitted to Mrs. Hinkle here.

The appointees duties will cover hotels, restaurants, resorts and private consumers. Any emergencies arising from change of rationing, jurisdictional problems or by those too late to register or not granted sufficient sugar for their needs will be settled by the Tahoe one-man board.

The county rationing boar also announced that A. M. Henry of Tahoe City has been appointed tire rationing inspector for the Lake Tahoe district of Placer county. His duties are to determine eligibility for motorists desiring new tires or retreading. His assignment will save residents of this region the cost of a trip to Auburn.

Mammoth Mackinaw Caught From Waters Of Tahoe

TAHOE CEDARS, May 21— The prize fishing story of the present season comes from the Tahoe Cedars tract. The prize fisherman is Truman Sunkel, building contractor, who tried his luck in the lake just off Pomin's Resort on Saturday last.

He had only just thrown his line into the lucid water when he felt a hefty tug on the nether end. Never suspecting he already had a bite he investigated to find a frisky 21½ pound Mackinaw cutting capers about the boat. By exercising caution and skill, he landed the big fellow safely in record time. The fish measured 41½ inches in length. Sunkel caught his prize on a 35 pound test copper line, using a zig-wag Heddon plug. He plans having the fish mounted to adorn the wall of his Tahoe Park....Mrs. Gerda Kvistberg entertained at a bridge luncheon on Thursday afternoon at her lakeside home. Guests attending enjoyed a delectable luncnheon before starting an afternoon of cards.Spring pansies adorned the individual tables set before the open fireplace. Present wer Mesdames Dorothy Johanson, Evelyn Bliss, William Lambert, Dorothy E. Eastman of Los Angeles, Bee Sisk, Eleanor Swanson, Fred Kilner, Northrup Pomin, Elizabeth Worden and Theodore Schleuter. High at each table were Mesdames Bliss, Lambert and Swanson. Consolations went to Mesdames Eastman, Worden and Schleuter.

On Saturday of last week Mrs. Kvistberg hosted a dinner a party attended by Mr. and Mrs. Jess Sisk, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen.

Miss Violet Baxley of Reno was a week end guest at the H. H. Hull home in Tahoe City.

The Bert Scotts of Piedmont enjoyed the weekend at Tahoe and got in some successful fishing at the same time.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerkin of Sacramento visited for several days last week at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll of Pine Lodge. They brought along huge bunches of the most gorgeous pansies to distribute to their winter-bound Tahoe friends, grown in their own gardens.

Miss Alice Soll returned to Tahoe Saturday night from art school in Oakland for the summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Pomin of Tahoe Park enjoyed visits from their children, the Harry Woolleys and children of Reno, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pomin and two youngsters of Oakland, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Spitsen and son of Oakland visited at the N. R. Mayfield home during the past week

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Yeakel have returned from Oakland and reopened their Lake Forest Home.

Miss Pat Henry returned to Tahoe Wednesday from Sacramento where she visited for several days at the home of her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Al Henry, Jr. She will remain at home until classes are resumed at University of Nevada later in the summer.

Mrs. Alice Brown is back at Tahoe Pines for the summer where she will serve as post master once again.

Little 10-months-old Norman Reid Smith was a guest recently for 12 days at the N. R. Mayfield home in Tahoe City, while his mother visited friends. His dad, Douglas Smith, is in charge of the crew of men who are installing the service station paving at Meek's Bay in the employ of A. Teichert and Son, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Frank Walker of San Francisco, accompanied by Mrs. Edith Mitchell, arrived on Friday at their Sunnyside estate, "Unaliyi". Walker left on Monday to join a party of friends for several weeks of deep sea fishing off the coast of Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Campbell of Sacramento and their three months old son, Chad, are enjoying a sojourn at their home in the Tahoe Cedars tract.

Visitors at the Glenn Sweeney home in Tahoe City recently were Miss Ruth Moore of Reno, daughter of Mrs. Sweeney, and Bud Frisbee of Sacramento.

Guy Lukens of Auburn was among motorists enjoying a trip to Tahoe on Sunday.

They've Been Drafted

Harry Bohme of Tahoe Vista and John Matus of Truckee were among the 87 Placer County selective service inductees to be honored at a good-will demonstration held in Auburn on May 19, the date of their departure for training camp. Each draftee was given cigarettes and candy by the Auburn Lions Club who also treated them to a farewell breakfast and gave them a send off Tuesday.

THRONG PAYS LAST TRIBUTE TO POPULAR VICTIM OF RECENT AUTO ACCIDENT

TAHOE CITY, May 21—Mrs. Rose Boyiaredes, widow of Chris "Honeybunch" Boyiaredes, killed in an untimely automobile accident, returned to Tahoe on Sunday once more to take up the threads of hre life among old and loyal friends and neighbors. She attended the final rites held for her popular husband in San Francisco.

Special services were held prior to the funeral in the Greek Orthodox Church where old friends and acquaintances overflowed the v stibule. The American Legion conducted the burial services, with more than 75 cars joining the last sad procession. It is estimated that more than 300 beautiful floral pieces were sent, the coffin being covered with a huge spray of white gladiolus, his favorite flower, and white gardenias, a last gift from his wife. Attendants were said to have declared it was the largest congregation of friends ever to gather in the parlor, a mute testimonial to Tahoe's most popular citizen. Burial was in the Greek Orthodox Memorial cemetary.

Mrs. Boyiaredes will continue to operate the lunch room in Tahoe City for the present, being assisted this week by Miss Florence Vernon. Future plans are indefinite.

Boyiaredes was survived by his wife; a sister, Mrs. Anatasia Capanis; a brother, Theodore; a niece, Mrs. Gus Doldas, and a grandniece, Tina.

Schumacher Retained As Trustee At Tahoe

TAHOE CITY, May 21— Jay Schumacher of Tahoma was re-elected to the trusteeship of the Tahoe Lake elementary school by a large margin at the election held in the school on Friday afternoon. Write-in candidates received six votes....A. M. Anderson, 1; C. A. Tollefson, 4; and Marie Henry 1.

There was no competition for the high school trustees E. G. Williams and Marie Hamel Sparks who each polled 19 votes, the total number of votes cast.

The election board consisted of Mrs. Ruth Mayfield, Mrs. Martha Burns and Mrs. Eleanor Swanson.

Proposed Tahoe Fire District Depends On Support Of All

TAHOE CITY, May 21— Although only a short time has elapsed since the formation of the new fire district in Tahoe, enthusiastic response is being evidenced by affected townsfolk. Already nearly half the money (or .01% of the assessed property valuation) is in the hands of Treasurer Clarence Vernon. A total of $1,500 can be collected if all property owners cooperate 100%. The money is being held in escrow until May 31 at which time 90% of the assessment must have been paid or the project fails....payments being voluntary.

According to Volunteer Fire Chief A. M. (Joe) Henry, the present equipment will be supplemented by at least 500 feet of new hose, ladders, a pickup to carry the hose and chemicals. Already on hand is 1,000 feet of hose, axes and other necessary equipment. The electric water pump installed on the lakeshore some three years ago, is in excellent condition. It pumps 500 gallons of water a minute with 105 pounds of pressure on the mains.

Chief Henry declared that if, and when, the new fire district begins

Tahoe Schools

TAHOE CITY, May 21— Hot lunches will again be served, starting Tuesday of this week, at the nominal charge of five cents a plate. A nourishing dish will be provided by Mrs. J. K. Tackett who has returned again from Colorado where she was called by the illness of her mother some time ago. Mrs. Jay Stark, who accompanied her, is again back at Tahoe.

An interesting exhibit during the past few weeks at the grammar school room was the collection of pictures of the Hawaiian Islands brought by Mrs. Arthur Ables, now a resident of Tahoe. An oddity was provided in the form of two wood roses which grow in abundance in the 49th state. They are most unusual in color and formation. The children have planted a seed from one of them and are hoping to be rewarded by a wood rose bush ere long.

Graduates from the 8th grade on June 19th will be Billy Heyer, Peg E Stuart, Robert Stark, Georgia Wallace, Bette Wheat, Shirley Ables and Betty Renner.

Mrs. June Dyer, teacher of the primary grades, enjoyed the week-end in San Francisco with her husband.

Miss Edna Wheat and Robert Wathen will attend graduation exercises in Auburn on Friday, May 22. Due to holidays recently taken, they must return to Tahoe and finish out their school term which ends June 23. Miss Ruth Moore will receive her diploma at the same time, but will be unable to attend closing exercises in Auburn due to her permanent employment in Reno.

Report cards will be issued this week.

High school students under the watchful eye of their instructor, Jay Schumacher, have completed the series of plane constructions, each having finished five or six aplece. The class is now engaged in scraping and sanding 30 school room arm chairs, which will be given a coat of varnish to complete their rejuvenation.

Last month the high school students began a paper drive for the benefit of the war effort, collecting from all sections of the lake region. With the consent of the school trustees the bundles were stored in the vacant half of the school bus garage until such time, during this month, they could be taken to Sacramento to be sold. Sam Landisberg, local merchant, even before the drive had started, very generously offered his services and truck to transport the two or more tons to the captial city, despite the fact the faculty offered to pay him. The money is to be divided proportionately between the two schools, the high school to donate theirs to the Red Cross and the grammar grades to buy war savings stamps. Annie Gallerani of Kings Beach and Robert Wathen and Rex Tollefson have donated cars and much time in making the venture a success. Any resident having on hand a supply of papers to donate, kindly get in touch with eitrer Mrs. Gallinger or Mrs. Hinkle at the schoolhouse, and a car will be sent to call for them. The project will terminate this week.

Mammoth Mackinaw Caught

lovely new home in the Tahoma district.

Sunkel's fish tops by half a pound the Mackinaw caught recently by Mrs. J. H. Vilk, who, with her husband, vacationed at Schleuter's cottages in Tahoe Park. Mrs. Vilk landed her record-breaker on a metal line with a six-foot 15-pound test leader, using a Heddon rainbow plug. Seven more smaller fish completed the day's catch for the couple.

The Vilks, who hail from San Francisco, are no amateurs in the art of angling, both taking their limit in bass and salmon during season in the Sacramento river and bay region. They were especially enthusiastic about the Tahoe Park shoreline which, they declared, was calm and quiet and free from sudden wind bursts.

Sunday found a lot of local men out on the lake with their fishing tackle. Among successful fishermen was Bob Wallace of Tahoe City who brought in a six-pound German brown and a three-pound Mackinaw.

Charlie Swanson snagged two unsuspecting Mackinaws weighing five and four pounds respectively.

its successful operation, it will cooperate with the forest service in rendering valuable and prompt aid in time of emergency. It is planned that once the Tahoe City project is in smooth running order, an attempt will be made to enlarge the district to include nearby residential areas. A pumper unit would then be added to the equipment which could be operated from a well, creek or the lake itself.

Mrs. Marie Henry is credited with being the only regular lady fireman on the volunteer fire department, although other ladies of the town have received fire-fighting training.

The assured success of the new fire district will lower the cost of fire protection in the business district 35%, according to Chief Henry, and will give adequate fire protection to property owners.

All interested parties are urged to attend regular meeting of the department at the community center hall the first Thursday of each month.

Tahoe Briefs

Mrs. George Bliss, Red Cross chairman, announced this week that there will be Red Cross meeting held in the local community hall on Tuesday afternoon, May 26, at 2 p.m. Everyone is invited and urged to attend. Ideas for extending and increasing of Tahoe's effort in behalf of the war emergency will be welcomed. While there is some sewing on hand to be done, Mrs. Bliss feels that this district could and should find some means of doubling our measure of immediate service.

Mrs. Fred Anglade of Tahoe City recently enjoyed a week's visit with friends at Marysville. Her husband who joined her a few days before her return did not enjoy his stay quite so much, having had all his teeth extracted while there.

Ben Stanley of Tahoe City showed his civic pride last week by donating his services to paint the aircraft observation post in town. He shared his labors with the Misses Patricia Henry and Edna Wheat who were permitted to enhance the green masterpiece by painting the sashes.

SACRAMENTO, May 21 —(U.P.)— W. R. Williams, state fire coordinator, today said military authorities were assisting the state defense council and California communities in obtaining priority ratings and prompt delivery of needed fire fighting equipment.

A survey is being made of the equipment on order and a united campaign will be made for rushing deliveries.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

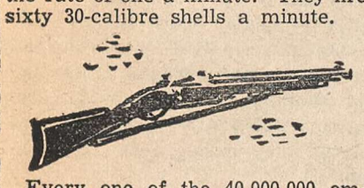
The Garand semi-automatic rifle, which is the standard issue today for the U. S. army, is superior to the old Springfield rifle in many respects. We literally need millions of these fast shooting powerful rifles to equip our army. They cost $85 each and are being manufactured at the rate of one a minute. They fire sixty 30-calibre shells a minute.



Every one of the 40,000,000 employed persons in America could easily buy one of these rifles for the army. Not that we need that many, but the reserve could go into shells and other much needed supplies. Buy more and more War Bonds and top the quota in your county by investing at least ten percent of your income every pay day.

DALE CARNEGIE'S COLUMN

THE OLD PLUS THE NEW

The other night I attended a lecture and heard the speaker say that there were few opportunities in an old business. He said that in an old-established business, thousands of people had preceded you and had worked out every quirk and angle possible, and that you could not hope to contribute anything new.

Two days after that I met Mrs Maria Kramer, and what she told me knocked what the lecturer said into a cocked hat. She and her husband run two of the biggest hotels in New York, the Edison and the Lincoln.

Mr. Kramer had been a builder and had to take over the Edison when the promoter he was building it for could not raise the money. He was "stuck" with a hotel on his hands. He knew nothing about the hotel business, but he determined to see what he could do with it.

His wife tried to help him, knowing no more about the hotel business than her husband did. She is a Mexican woman, was born in Mexico, and her maiden name was Maria de Ramirez.

One day, as she was in the lobby of the hotel, a man entered and asked for a room. A foreigner, he could not speak English. None of the clerks could speak his language. Embarrassed and self-conscious, he finally left. A customer walking out the door!

This set Mrs. Kramer thinking. This must happen many times a day in New York. She turned the idea in her mind, and it grew far beyond the one man who had walked out. She could engage clerks who could speak foreign languages. But the possibilities were greater than that. She would not wait till foreigners arrived at the hotel—she would go to Europe atfer them. She decided she would write to the people in their own language. She went to a translation bureau and employed clerks who had been born in countries she wished to reach, and who could write the kind of letters those citizens were accustomed to reading—not stiff translations of letters first written in English. Through steamship agencies travel bureaus, and club organizations she got the names of foreign travelers, and wrote them, not only once, but follow-up letters.

Naturally the people who received these letters were pleased—a nice chatty letter in their own language! What do you think happened? Well, the foreign business in her hotel jumped 400 per cent in one year!

One day a distinguished looking man arrived, but no one could understand him. Every clerk was tried. They learned he was a Hindu and spoke Hindustani. Mrs. Kramer took charge, and telephoned "International House" in New York. In an hour a young man stepped behind the desk and made the Hindu feel at home.

Mrs. Kramer went into one of the oldest businesses in the world, and contributed something no one else had thought of. Examine the business you are in. Maybe you can contribute something new, too.

April Seen As Wet Month In California Sierra Regions

SACRAMENTO, May 21—(U.P.)— In contrast to a dry March, the month of April was very wet in California, the Sierra Nevada receiving more than double its usual precipitation, the final snow survey bulletin of the state division of water resources disclosed today.

As a result of the April storms the report shows, expected run-off is now 10 per cent higher than predicted a month ago, or 105 per cent of normal.

The snow pack at Donner Summit was reported to be 80.71 inches.

In addition, the storms delayed melting. As the mountain snow pack now stands, there is less snow below the 7500 foot level and more above it than a month ago.

The increase in the elevation snow pack, the report states, should result in late summer flows being sustained.

According to the bulletin, the area around Mount Lassen received more snow than any other portion of the state. On May 5, rangers measured 203 inches on the level in the vicinity of Lake Helen on the Loop Highway

Other points where the snow pack was deep were Yuba Pass near Downieville, 15.5 inches; Lake Fordyce, 76.5; Silver Lake, 46.5; Blue Lakes, 94.9; Kaiser Pass on the upper San Joaquin River, 109; Huntington, 41.5; Panther Meadow, Kaweah River, 106.5, and Round Meadow Kern River, 59 inches.

BUDGET OR BUST

Over here we don't want to be regimented—either by ourelves or by outsiders. We even dislike the sound of the word regimentation. But in wartime of course, a certain amount of it is necessary, and the American will grin and bear it in this war just as well as he has in past wars.

Also in times such as these we are now entering, the regimentation of dollars is as essential as the regimentation of people; for dollars are cold-blooded fish and will "do you in" if you don't watch their every move.

For the last year or so these brutes have been treating their owners shamefully; buying less and less for them month after month. Half a year ago the President wanted them "put in their place" by stopping the rise in prices, but only very recently have the "powers that be" obtained the legal right to act forcefully. Now we are compelled to have regimented prices in order to check the terrible threat of one of man's cruelest enemies—runaway inflation.

Any such revolutionary control necessarily creates a certain amount of economic confusion, and in order to adjust our dollars to these bewildering changes we must be firm with them, and if necessary "treat 'em rough." There are numerous ways of handlinng band-mannered dollars, but many students of finance believe the best method is budgeting. It is boring at first and is distinctly a chore, but it will certainly make those dollars behave if one is persevering; and it doesn't require an economist to inform us that unless we do make them behave from now on—we might just as well start looking around for the handiest poor house.

Get a big lined writing tablet and on the first line write Meat; on the second line Fish; on the third line Vegetables, and so on down the page Write the names of things you are accustomed to spending money on regularly, such as—Schooling, Clothing, Rent, Taxes, Gasoline, Movies, Transportation, etc. Head another sheet "Extras," and keep a record on this sheet of miscellaneous expenses and purchases. Now on the right half on these pages draw lines from top to bottom about an inch apart, and head the columns with the name of the present and coming months. Expense slips from the grocer must be kept and a daily record of cash expenses jotted down. This is the boring part—but it is essential. At the end of the month add up what you spent for meat, etc., and fill in the columns. In three months' time you will know what you are customarily spending on various items of living; where you are wasting an dwhat you must cut down on. Then determine just how much you are wiling to restrict yourself to monthly on each item; write it down, and stick to it like glue.

This budget must be made to total much less than your regular income, because there are always extras which we don't expect. If a month goes by and there are fewer extras than we allowed for, we should put the difference in the savings bank or in war stamps and bonds; for we must have some money laid aside when the war ends. We naturally hope for the best and most of us have confidence in our government; but even governments are not omnipotent and when finance "goes on a binge" it can sweep everything before it. Then it is "catch as catch can and the devil take the hindmost" —meaning the fellow with no money in the bank.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 21—(U.P.)—One of the latest candidates for public office is Charles J. Hagerty, deputy secretary of state for 15 years and an employe of the office for another 15, who will seek both major party nominations for secretary of state.

Hagerty is an instituation in Sacramento. He seems to be the source of all official information and has the remarkable facility of either remembering instantly or putting his fingers on desired information in a few minutes. He embodies all the traits one could imagine in a public official and has often been characterized by capable observers as the most outstanding and efficient public official in California.

Hagerty came into the office when 22 years of age and became the trusted friend, right hand man and confidant of Frank C. Jordan, the friendly secretary of state who died in 1940. He took over election jurisdiction in 1920, became a deputy secretary in 1927, and is really the man who has kept the office rolling smoothly through the years.

The candidacy of Hagerty presents a queer situation, since his chief opponent will be Frank M. Jordan, younger son of the late secretary, who served as a deputy for several years. The younger Jordan is correct in realizing that the Jordan family name is well known in California politics and probably many persons are unaware that father has passed away. And young Frank received wide support when Paul Peek decided to give up his secretaryship and run for attorney general.

But there is no questioning the fact that Hagerty is the logical man for the job, on the basis of qualification and years of outstanding service to the state. He came up through the ranks of civil service and his integrity is without question. He is a progressive Republican but has always conducted his duties in a non-partisan manner.

It is interesting to note in this connection that the McClatchy newspapers traditionally defer endorsements of political office seekers until all aspirants have filed their actual candidacy papers. But they departed from this tradition the day after Hagerty made his announcement with a lengthy editorial discussion of Hagerty's fitness for the job and the conclusion:

"Feeling that the best man for secretary of state already has placed his name before the voters, the McClatchy newspapers endorse Charles J. Hagerty and urge united support of his candidacy."

It is a difficult choice for those who know both Jordan and Hagerty, since both are personable men. Yet in the interest of good government, and if the best qualified man is to have the job, there is considerable evidence to give Hagerty the nod.

Another well-known name bobbed up for attorney general when Jerry Giesler, chairman of the state horse racing board and the state athletic commission, confirmed he was flirting with the idea of running for the job. Giesler is a well-know Los Angeles attorney who hits the headlines on big cases.

He was in the news when he waved the big stick on the horse tracks. He has been close to the governor and is a Democrat. His major opposition on that ticket would come from Peek and there likely will be some attempt to keep them from opposing each other.

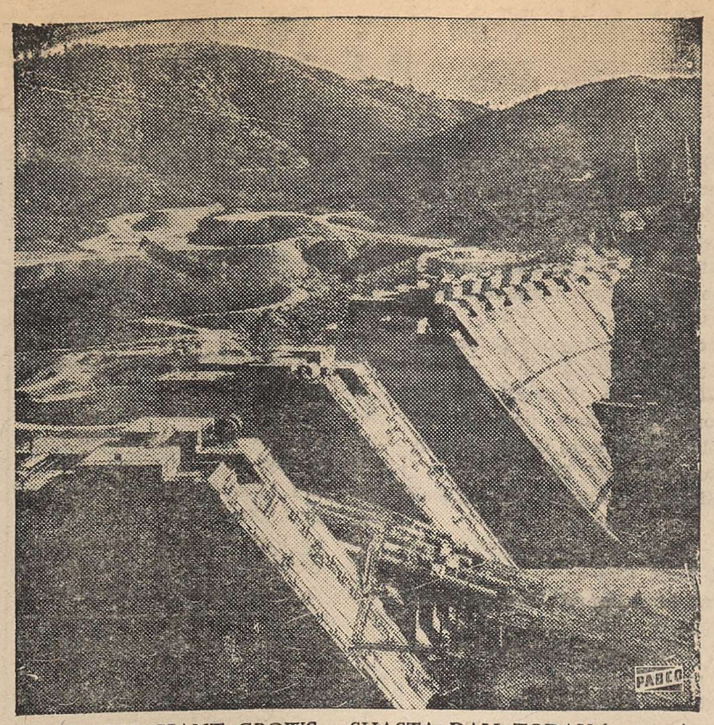
Governor Olson isn't fooling when he says there won't be a special session of the legislature to reconsider the troublesome question of the state guard. He said he was positive that "there would continue to be a conflict of opinion and I know we would find some at least who would be the first to introduce politics in to the guard subject."

"It is undestandable," Olson continued, referring to sentiment of certain Southern California legislators for a sepcial session, "that those who were opposed to mantenace of the state guard at the other session.... should have realized that they were wrong and that maybe they are trying to set themselves right in the public mind. I don't blame them."

The governor pointed out that the compromise bill passed by the legislature, in addition to an active force of 7000 men on active duty and an administrative force, provides a reserve force sufficient to make a total personnel of up to 28,000 men. Under the military code, he can, if he deems conditions in the war situation justified, issue a proclamation calling into active service more than 7,000 and up to more than 20,000.

Olson already has decided that the submarine shelling of the Goleta oilfields constituted a legitimate case of attack on California and sufficient basis for calling out reserves.

Those conditions should be ample assurance there will be no special session this year, barring a legitimate emergency.



STILL THE GIANT GROWS — SHASTA DAM TODAY has nearly half of its 6,000,000 cubic yards of concrete now in place. The great project will play an important part in the power and agricultural development of one of the West's greatest land areas.

TOWNSHIPS CUT IN ORDER BY BOARD

The Nevada county board of supervisors at its last meeting cut the number of judicial townships in the county to three. Grass Valley township will include the old Grass Valley, Rough & Ready and Little York townships. The new Nevada township will include Nevada, Bloomfield, Washington, Bridgeport and Eureka townships.

Meadow Lake Township, of which Truckee is the principal community, will remain unchanged.

The same meeting saw the approval of a wage boost for County Welfare Director Ingram to $2100 a year, effective July 1 and several other fiscal an personnel matters were acted upon.
